

Charles M. "Chip" Russell, III serves as the CEO of Matter Management Enterprises and AmWaste. He received his Bachelor of Science in Engineering (Environmental) from Mercer University in 2007.

Russell founded Matter Management in 2010 after working at the Macon-based engineering consulting firm Hodges, Harbin, Newberry & Tribble. Matter Management has grown organically and through prior acquisitions to service over 300,000 customers per week across all of its business lines. Matter Management began with five employees and now has over 500 employees across the two companies. They operate recycling and waste management services from Louisiana to Georgia.

He was named to the Waste360 40 Under 40 list which recognizes innovative professionals under the age of 40 whose work in waste, recycling and organics who have made a significant contribution to the industry.

Chip lives in Forsyth with his family and is a member of the Mercer National Engineering Advisory Board.